

HAUNTED WINE TOUR AUDITION READING: SURGEON

Hey. You can't come in here. Entrance costs an arm and a leg. I'm just joshing you. My mother always said I had big funny bone. Now I've got a few others too. Try not to spill while you're in here, wine is really hard to get out of all the blood stains. If you need help, I can always lend you a hand. Or two. Wish I had a chair though. My feet are killing me. Ironic cause his feet were killing him too. But seriously, I'm pretty sure I've got athlete's foot. Or at least a soldier's foot. Anyone here need any work done? My prices are currently the same as my patients: half off! Excuse me for a moment folks, I've got something of grave importance to attend to.
